SPENCER, JORDAN CASES TO COUNCIL

Governor Fox today to refer the constitution petitions of Spencer C. Spencer and Chester S. Jordan, the confederate Springfield and Newburyport murders, to the Executive Council.

This was made evident today at the State House, where the Governor told at today's meeting, before other petitioners that they will do better to wait a fortnight, as the Council will be busy next week considering the Spencer and Jordan cases.

The Governor did not give out an official statement to the effect that he will refer these two capital cases to the Council, but his advice to the lawyers interested in getting persons for other petitioners showed his purpose clearly.

The Governor went from the State House to his summer home in Chatham. He took with him for further consideration the papers in the Jordan and Spencer petition cases. He even cancelled an engagement he had for a swampy canton in this afternoon so as to have more time for unsatisfied study of the petition cases.

Spencer is condemned to be electrocuted in the week beginning September 15, which is only eight days away. Jordan is to be executed in the week following, beginning September 22, providing confirmation is not granted in either case.

Confirmation from the death sentence is asked in each case on the grounds of insanity.

There was a slight misunderstanding at last whether Spencer's petition for confirmation had reached the Governor. Executive Clerk Hamlin said that the petition of Richard P. Spaulding, Spencer's counsel, had given the petition clerk the Governor's hands in lieu of sending it to through the hands of the executive clerk.

Before Governor Fox went to Chatham he sent a letter to Spencer, assuring him that his petition had been received.

Another circumstance of the case is that Dr. J. Vernon Briggs, the scientist who testified at the Spencer trial, is a friend of the Governor. Dr. Briggs said at the Spencer trial that the defendant was conscious by an "irreversible impulse" which had been manifested in the series of burglaries he committed. He was also a friend of the Governor's specially appointed expert to examine Charles V. T. McKenna with regard to his sanity.

BABY IS DROWNED IN A WASHTUB

Thomas E. Hooker, Jr., one year and three months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hooker of No. 63 Canton street, was drowned today in a tub. Mrs. Hooker left the house for a few minutes. The baby was playing in the kitchen. His mother found him in a wash-tub, which stood on the floor. Attempts at resuscitation were vain.

Suffragettes Invade Balmoral; Tear Up King's Golf Pennons

EDINBURGH, Sept. 7.—Militant suffragettes today struck their boldest blow by invading the estate at Balmoral Castle, King George's Scottish residence, where His Majesty is entertaining a number of cabinet officers.

Driving the royal guards the women tore up all the golf flags upon the links, substituting purple banners bearing the inscription:

Cabinet ministers must stop forcibly feeding women.

Votes for women means peace for Cabinet ministers.

Fearing that the King might suffer at the hands of the women, special guards were provided for His Majesty when he walked in the grounds today.

Cabinet ministers must stop forcibly feeding women.

The Giants lead the Cubs by eight games, and the Pirates by fourteen and one-half games.

Jack Stahl and his Red Sox are out today to make it four straight from Griffith's Rotation by taking the last game in the series. Charlie Hall or Hugh Bell is likely to be manager Stahl's choice for second duty today. Griffith has given up his last left to use against the Red Sox. A great crowd will witness the closing battle of the series.

BY RILEY.
Well, now "what's something." We induced Clark Griffith, on behalf of Walter Johnson, to challenge Jake Stahl, on behalf of Joe Wood, to a pitching duel for the world's championship. They fought the duel.

And who won?
Of one fact there is no doubt. The game was just what it was intended to be—a pitchers' battle.

Red Sox—who won?
The Red Sox beat the Senators, 1 to 0. At first thought, it appears that the Red Sox were the victors.

But if Moeller, the Senators' right fielder, had gathered in Duffy Lewis' only hit in the sixth inning, as many a better right fielder might have done, Wood and Johnson might—and it seems that they likely would—have pitched darkness without a score, and then...

Who would have won?
And the game been scoreless, as it would likely have been but for the odd location of that fly ball, it would have been merely a question of analysis, to what team, based upon the findings...

Attitude Protests 'Intimidation' in the City South End Yard

Acting Mayor John J. Attridge today lodged a protest with Commissioner of Public Works Rusk against what he termed intimidation of city employees employed in the South End yard of the department.

Attridge claims that former Representative Timothy P. Callahan, candidate for the Senate in the Fourth District, visited the South End yard yesterday afternoon, met the acting foreman, William Doherty, and was introduced by that official to a number of city employees in the yard.

The assumption of Attridge is that the introduction of Callahan was sufficient to cause the laboring men to believe that they should cast their votes for Callahan as a Senator, despite the fact that he is a known supporter of the laboring men.

The charges are preliminary to the proposed action of Attridge to bring the alleged intimidation of city employees before the city council.

Member of Firm of Hornblower & Weeks to Marry Miss McGaffee.

The engagement of James J. Phelan, one of Boston's richest and best known bankers, was announced today, and the young woman is Miss Mabel McGaffee, daughter of Mr. William J. McGaffee, vice-president of the Thomas G. Plant Shoe Company of Jamaica Plain.

Mr. Phelan and Miss McGaffee have been acquainted for several years, but the affair was said to have first taken a serious aspect when they met at Palm Beach a year or so ago. Mr. Phelan and Miss McGaffee were together frequently there as members of a large party of Bostonians, which included Mayor and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Since their return Mr. Phelan has been a frequent caller at the beautiful McGaffee home on South Huntington avenue, Jamaica Plain.

Miss McGaffee is a very pretty and very popular society girl. She is talented and accomplished. The date of the wedding has not been set, but it is expected to take place in the Spring.

Mr. Phelan, although still a young man, has had a remarkable career in finance. He was born in Toronto and came to Boston as a boy. He entered the employ of Hornblower & Weeks and when that firm became Hornblower & Weeks he was its most indispensable clerk. He joined the Exchange in 1907 and in 1909 became a member of the firm. He was at one time president of the Federal Trust Company, and is president of the Connecticut Valley Lumber Company. He has been asked several times to run for Mayor, but has refused because of pressure of business.

Nine Porters First in Walkout; "Breakers" at Parker House

Nine porters at Young's Hotel struck at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon, and it was reported that this was the beginning of a strike of all the employees of this hotel.

Manager Gallagher was asked if he expected a general strike. "They all got letters ordering them to strike," he replied, "but so far only the porters have gone out."

One of the porters said they were striking because the head porter, G. A. Nagle, took all the tips and because they were not furnished with proper food.

BIG CROWD READY FOR PARADE.

A crowd gathered about the hotel in anticipation of a delegation of paraders expected from the headquarters of the Hotel Employees' Union. Several private detectives were about the hotel in the interest of the hotel.

The plan formed was to have all the strikers from the Parker House and other hotels start from union headquarters, 724 Washington street, march down Washington street and to the front of Young's. There a whistle was to be sounded, the signal for the help to come out and the strike to begin.

Surprising stories are related of the incomes of some head porters at big Boston hotels. Some of the under porters...

START EMERY DEATH INQUIRY

Investigation of the death at Portage Lake, Me., of Daniel C. Emery, who was believed part of the fortune of George D. Emery, the wealthy importer of Chelsea, and his wife, which was suspected murder and suicide by Emery, was begun today by Coroner William F. Russell of Houlton.

Boston friends of Emery, one of whose relatives, Mr. Herbert Clark Emery, lives on Chestnut street, Back Bay, were startled today by the tragic ending in the Maine wilds of a romance revealed two years ago by his marriage to a Burlington, Vt., woman who would him back to health in a Boston hospital.

Emery had been in poor health the past few months and his friends attribute the tragedy to that cause. It is believed his mind had become deranged, and in a fit of aberration he killed his wife. Then, with his intellect cleared again, he was overcome with remorse and took his own life.

Town officials, forcing an entrance to the house, found the bodies of Emery and his wife in one of the bedrooms. Mrs. Emery had been strangled to death, apparently, and Emery's death was due to one or more bullet wounds in the head. The body of the woman was covered by her night robe, and had the appearance of having been pushed into the corner of the room where it was found.

Emery's body was stretched on the bed and a revolver was clasped in his hand. His head was badly mutilated.

Emery was about fifty years of age, and his wife was ten years his junior. It is thought Mrs. Emery was killed Wednesday night, and that Emery did not leave his home until Thursday night, when he realized that his wife was dead.

He was twice married, his former wife being divorced. Two children by his first wife, the Misses Mary and Gwendolyn Emery, are said to be living with friends in Vermont. The first Mrs. Emery is now in India.

Birthday Party In Hospital Saves Life of Little Patient

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—"It's no use, the child is hopelessly injured. Look at that temperature," said one of the surgeons of the Kings County Hospital to the mother after he had examined thirteen-year-old Hilda Schneider. Hilda had undergone an operation apparently successful for appendicitis three days before, but her vitality was steadily sinking. The doctor was plainly baffled.

"It's no use," he repeated, "go on leaving her my way. She's got something on her mind. She needs to be cheered up, not doctored. You try."

The kindly mother smiled at the surgeon's contention.

"Doctor, I believe I know a remedy for that child," she said.

"More heart sedatives I suppose," he quipped smartly.

"No a birthday," she answered.

The doctor gave the woman one look again, but found no trace of laughter now in her eyes.

"By George, is that really it?" he exclaimed.

"That's what she's worrying about. When's her birthday?"

"Next Friday. She will be thirteen. She is to have had a beautiful party at her home."

The doctor did not wait to hear the rest. He was calling over his shoulder to the nurses and doctors of the hospital had gathered up a good round sum while Hilda and her mother were waiting for the birthday cake.

But more important than this a little patient who for three days had been battling downward into the Valley of the Shadow, had been saved.

Next morning the doctor came again. He asked his nurse to summon the mother, there were tears in his eyes.

"Hilda," he said, "you're won."

Gardner and Joe Wood. They predict that as soon as the Bostonians have ditched the pennant, Wood will receive a rest so that he can pitch in at least three games against the Giants.

Oddly enough the paming champions seem to believe that Jake Stahl may prove a weak spot in the Red Sox infield. One of Mack's star pitchers expressed the opinion yesterday that the Giants would be more easily disposed of than they were last year, while a crack infielder remarked that the Cubs still had an excellent chance to snail ahead of McGraw's men.

We Are Asked Some Strange
Questions Occasionally

A Young Man in Alfred Inquires if We Think the Time Has Come When Maine Should Send an O'Brien to Congress. Imagined. And Another Young Person—We HOPE They're Both Young—Drops a Line From Gouldsbrough to Know Our Opinion of a Congressman Who Opens a Boarding House in Washington. Well, Well, Well!

Editors of newspapers are supposed to know everything. They really don't know everything—NOBODY KNOWS EVERYTHING—but they are supposed to know everything and it makes some of them proud.

Because of this widely prevalent notion, editors are asked some STRANGE QUESTIONS.

Two of our readers in the State of Maine, young people, we imagine—and we HOPE they ARE young people—have lately hurled a pair of strange inquiries in OUR direction.

One of them, who signs himself "Edward P.," and who writes in from the town of Alfred, in York County, wants to know if we "believe the time has come when the State of Maine should send an O'Brien to the Congress of the United States." There really is a lot more to "Edward P.'s" communication, but this is the IMPORTANT part of it. "Edward P." seems to be WORRIED.

And our second correspondent wants to know what we think about a Congressman who runs a boarding house in Washington.

This second correspondent writes from the town of Gouldsbrough, in Hancock County.

She says there is a certain Congressman in Maine who complains that it costs ten dollars a day to stop at a Washington hotel and who is reported to have opened a boarding house at the Capital. Our correspondent thinks this MOST UNDIGESTED. She asks for OUR opinion about it. We feel certain she expects us to agree with her.

We shall try to answer these questions to the best of our ability.

And, dear "Edward P.," the time has NOT come when the State of Maine should send an O'Brien to the House of Representatives at Washington, because the time CAME, away back in 1823, and O'Brien WENT to Congress. That was all of EIGHTY-NINE YEARS AGO.

His name was Jeremiah O'Brien. He was a merchant in the town of Machias, far up the coast towards New Brunswick, and he was a nephew of that Captain Jeremiah O'Brien who, in the month of June of the year 1775, captured the British armed schooner Margareta, HAULED DOWN THE FIRST BRITISH FLAG TO COME DOWN ON WATER IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION, AND WON THE FIRST NAVAL VICTORY OF THAT LONG WAR.

An EMINENT citizen of Massachusetts, former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long—who came to us from the State of Maine, by the way—has written of this capture of the Margareta by the six sons of Morris O'Brien, a Dublin man, that it was the "FIRST IN THE SERIES OF THE GLORIOUS VICTORIES OF THE YANKEE SAILOR; AND O'BRIEN, FULL YANKEE, THOUGH OF IRISH DESCENT, DESERVES RANK WITH OUR NAVAL HEROES."

When next you visit Portland, "Edward P.," drop in at the library of the Maine Historical Society—you will find it in Congress street between the Freebie Hotel and the old home of the Post Longfellow, and ask to see a little book called "The O'Briens of Machias, Me., Patriots of the American Revolution, Their Services to the Cause of Liberty," by the Rev. Andrew Magoon Sherman, a Congregational pastor of Morristown, New Jersey. We know of few historical works more thrilling or inspiring.

While we have answered the QUESTION of our young correspondent we are QUITE certain that we have not told him what he wants to KNOW.

And we do not hesitate to say that, in the Maine election which comes on Monday, we should prefer Michael T. O'Brien of Portland for OUR Congressman over Mr. Asher C. Hinds.

Mr. O'Brien, like Mr. Hinds, is a native-born, State-of-Maine Yankee. Mr. O'Brien springs from the common people. He knows their needs, their wants, their aspirations. He has been a farmer's boy. He was a doffer in a Lewiston cotton mill, at the age of eleven, for thirty-five cents a day.

But he has also been a school teacher—he worked his way through college—and he is now a busy attorney.

NONE OF THESE THINGS, HOWEVER, WOULD KEEP OUR VOTE FROM CONGRESSMAN ASHER HINDS AND GIVE IT TO MICHAEL T. O'BRIEN.

Asher Hinds VOTED AGAINST THE FARMERS' FREE LIST. Asher Hinds VOTED AGAINST FREE SUGAR. Asher Hinds is ON RECORD AGAINST THE ELECTION OF UNITED STATES SENATORS BY THE PEOPLE. Asher Hinds VOTED AGAINST A TAX ON INCOMES IN EXCESS OF $5,000 A YEAR.

IN EVERY ONE OF THESE INSTANCES—merely for example—Asher Hinds voted AGAINST THE PEOPLE OF THE FIRST MAINE DISTRICT AND IN FAVOR OF SPECIAL PRIVILEGE.

We are absolutely certain that, face to face with the same problems, Michael T. O'Brien will vote FOR THE PEOPLE AND AGAINST SPECIAL PRIVILEGE.

And so, dear young friend, if we could have OUR way about it,

Everybody's Happy :- By Tad

RAH! RAH! RAH!

THEY'RE FOR ME

the State of Maine would on Monday next for the second time, and after eighty-two years, SEND A SECOND O'BRIEN TO CONGRESS.

As for the young woman who writes to us from Gouldsbrough, in Hancock County, and who wants to know what we think about the Congressman who runs a Washington boarding house, we observe that she resides in the Third Congressional District and we infer that she has in mind one of the ridiculous yarns that is being peddled about with the intention of injuring our old friend, Congressman Samuel Wadsworth Gould of Skowhegan.

And we say to this young woman, "Rubbish!"

We don't know whether Congressman Gould runs a boarding house in Washington or not. We HOPE he does. Mr. Gould has been a good lawyer for more than thirty years. If he runs a boarding house in Washington we stand ready to wager a bushel of Arrostook's finest potatoes to a five-cent bag of circus peanuts that it is a GOOD boarding house.

And for our part we should very much prefer an honest Congressman, who admits that Washington expenses are high, and who takes up an honest calling to help him meet them, to a lame Congressman who lives on his salary PLUS AN OCCASIONAL "CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT" FROM THE STANDARD OIL COMPANY OR SOME OTHER CORPORATION.

If the boarding house is the only issue against "Sam" Gould of Skowhegan, we expect to see the Congressman re-elected. We HOPE HE WILL BE.

These two letters furnish us an opportunity to say that we also expect the re-election of Congressman McGillicuddy of Lewiston. The Lewiston Congressman was successful two years ago by a plurality of nearly 3,000 over his Republican opponent. This year the Woolen Trust is fighting him, but the people of the Third Maine District know all about the Woolen Trust and we have no fear for McGillicuddy. His defeat would be to set back the cause of progress in that district for another generation.

As for Mayor Mullen of Bangor, his record is an OPEN BOOK. Mr. Mullen has made an EXCELLENT MAYOR. His people have shown their approval of one good term by giving him another. He has made a GOOD SENATOR, TOO. His Congress district was taken by the Republicans two years ago by only 501 votes over George M. Hanson of Calais.

Judge Hanson was probably the most popular candidate whom the Democrats had named for Congress in the Fourth District UP TO THAT TIME. Mayor Mullen's fact, considered at a distance of two hundred and fifty miles, is the most difficult of the Democratic problems of Monday, but the Mayor of Bangor OUGHT to BE ELECTED TO CONGRESS AND WE HOPE HE WILL BE.

TO OUR mind, however, the BIGGEST and yet the SIMPLEST task before the voters of Maine on Monday is the ELECTION OF A LEGISLATURE.

The primaries having spoken, the next Maine Legislature MUST return Obadiah Gardner to the United States Senate or CALL HIM HOME AND SEND E. C. BURLEIGH IN HIS PLACE.

WHEN THEY VOTE FOR MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE, THEREFORE, THE PEOPLE OF MAINE WILL BE VOTING FOR OBADIAH GARDNER, PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRAT, OR E. C. BURLEIGH, STAND-PAID REPUBLICAN, FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

The duty of State-of-Maine Progressives, already DUFFED BADLY ENOUGH BY KNAVISH OR CHICKEN-HEARTED LEADERS, is in this contest as PLAIN AS THE DOME ON THE STATE HOUSE AT AUGUSTA.

Help Wanted "Ads"
Show Advance of Prosperity

Often little straws show very clearly which way the wind is blowing. For example, there is no better indicator pointing to the prosperous times in store for Boston and New England this Fall than the "Help Wanted" and "Situations Wanted" columns on the classified pages of the AMERICAN, Daily and Sunday. Take Wednesday and Thursday of this week, the AMERICAN carried on those two days 184 separate advertisements in the classifications of "Male" and "Female Help Wanted," while on the same days it carried but fifty-four separate advertisements of "Male" and "Female Situations Wanted." In other words there were over three times as many people looking for competent help as there were people looking for jobs.

Expansion is in the air, and competent people looking for jobs will have little difficulty finding them. This shows that everybody is busy, and, by-the-way, the AMERICAN is the great medium through which employers look for help of all kinds.

A feature of the AMERICAN's classified service, outside of the fact that through the AMERICAN's immense circulation the employer is able to reach practically everybody in New England, is the fact that he can insert an advertisement in the early editions of the AMERICAN and usually secure the needed help the same afternoon. This is a quick and efficient service that is appreciated by the employers.

LETTERS FROM AMERICAN READERS

THE ARCHBOLD EXPOSE
Editor Boston AMERICAN:
Dear Sir—Congratulations should be showered upon Mr. Hearst for his demand that Roosevelt and Archbold tell the truth about the political contributions by the Standard Oil Company. His enterprise in obtaining letters that will force the truth is worthy of the praise of all honest citizens. His conduct as an editor proves that the day of the editor who yields a breasting influence in national life has not passed.

CHANCELLOR DAY
Editor Boston AMERICAN:
Dear Sir—The "Frenchie" Rightwingers in the "New York Times" I wrote the Outlook only yesterday asking "Who is the 'Frenchie' Day?" Of course, I knew, and his moral authority, aimed at Roosevelt, are certainly through. F. E.

What Has Become of Boston's Boosters?

We Heard a Lot About Them a While Ago. They Are BUSY Now
"Sawing Wood," says the Sunday AMERICAN.

A WHILE ago there was a general battle cry to "BOOST BOSTON." You know it, much these days. The Boston 1915 promotion seems to have dropped from sight. We have fewer exhibitions showing New England's industrial possibilities.

There is a good reason. The people who were urging that Boston be Boosted have convinced themselves with their own propaganda and are busy at work ACTUALLY IMPROVING THE CITY.

The building figures of the past six months PROVE this. They are amazing. The amount of building, the increase in many lines of trade and manufacture—in fact the increased prosperity of Boston and New England—is unequalled.

It is sometimes good to consider the ACHIEVEMENTS of our own little city. Forget the Panama Canal, the San Francisco exposition, the allurement of far-distant points, China, Japan, California, for a few minutes, and read WHAT BOSTON IS DOING, in Sunday's AMERICAN.

It will improve your confidence in the FUTURE OF NEW ENGLAND.

While speaking of achievements it might be well to mention that there is another story in Sunday's AMERICAN concerning the subject. This is a story of PERSONAL achievements. You'd be surprised to know what enormous salaries some of Boston's captains of industry receive.

How would YOU like to receive $100,000 a year for your services? Probably you think NO ONE can earn so much.

There are several Bostonians who DO.

There have been strange and wonderful doings at New England's Summer resorts—wired frolics at Narragansett, canes with cocktails consorted in the handies at Bar Harbor, ultraruged meetings and delectable "hot dog" banquets at Newport.

The most magnificent of all the fashionable affairs was the Vanderbilt ball—but you will never read the REAL HAPPENINGS at that event unless you read Sunday's AMERICAN.

The most bizarre events of the season occurred in the CHORUS TENT, and were NOT witnessed by Mrs. Vanderbilt's lady guests, and their husbands will NEVER TELL them.

Their wives, and most every people else, will read this page feature in Sunday's AMERICAN with deep interest. It isn't often one is permitted behind the scenes with Newport society leaders.

What about the Russell Will Fight?
"Freddie Dan" created quite a sensation the other day when he left town. Everyone speculated on WHY and WHERE he had gone. The problem of what will happen to Freddie Dan and Dakota Dan before the great contest is awaited is as absorbing as the "How Old is Ann" proposition.

The eyes of the political world are turned toward MAINE. The Sunday AMERICAN's special commissioner, Mr. Eliza McQuibbin, has been in Maine all week, and what he has discovered about the situation up there is of importance. He will tell us about the Maine situation in Sunday's AMERICAN.

Greater Boston's girls, not to be outdone by the boys who have their scout organization, have begun a similar institution which they designate as Campfire Girls. They get out in the open with tents and camping outfit, don Indian maid clothes, have little outdoor woodcraft and historical plays, and learn a lot of worthy things. The Sunday AMERICAN will show some very interesting pictures showing the girls at play which will interest every girl in New England.

Right near Boston there are a group of people who think they have found the road to health, wealth and happiness. They believe they have discovered a system whereby broken down, overworked city people may find healthful outdoor pleasures and at the same time solve the High Cost of Living problem.

Many of these people are women. They till the soil, build houses, have little farms of their own and conduct the places on a community basis. Many of them are prominent people.

How they are succeeding in their venture will be told in Sunday's AMERICAN.

The mention of FARMING calls to mind the AMERICAN's unequalled FARM PAGE. The AMERICAN's Farm Page, edited by a distinguished expert, tells you HOW to do most everything. This week there is an illustrated article which concerns HENS. These not ordinary hens, but there is no reason why YOU shouldn't have some just like them if you are interested in poultry.

These are Little Red Hens and they lay eggs worth $5 each. They are residents of Greater Boston and their owner has an enormous hen farm and a houseful of blue ribbons and prizes which his birds have won.

Imagine hens that lay eggs worth $5 each! Almost business you to go into the business, doesn't it?

Boston's schools open this week. The new superintendent, Mr. Dyer, has a great problem on his hands, and he has a lot of plans which will interest EVERY FATHER AND MOTHER IN Boston.

He is going to make the schools provide YOUR CHILDREN WITH A PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

They will be taught things that will be of value to them when they have to "hustle." An interesting story about Boston's schools and their opening will be printed in Sunday's AMERICAN.

The Sunday AMERICAN's story telling of the disaffection between officers and men on the North Atlantic submarine fleet caused a great sensation in naval circles, and has stirred up the Navy Department. A story giving further details of the situation will be printed exclusively in next Sunday's AMERICAN.

Last, but not least, must be mentioned that Sunday's AMERICAN will make the GREATEST ANNOUNCEMENT EVER MADE BY ANY NEWSPAPER. See Sunday's AMERICAN for the details.
